LANDSCAPE PROJECT BRINGS YEAR ROUND GREENS, WELCOME NINE NEW MEMBERS & SECURITY UPDATES

Although I was initially sworn in during the Dinner on The Bridge party on September 30th, I was more officially sworn in during the November, 14th General Membership Meeting. I was honored to take the oath in front of my QCYC friends with my loving spousal unit, Denise, at my side, and now I formally begin my journey through the chairs. Thank you for entrusting me to work with you this next year as your Rear Commodore.

I'd like to thank you all for the condolences you've offered over the loss of my Mother. Being with Mom in Illinois at the end was paramount to me, and I'm grateful for the understanding and graciousness of the Bridge and Membership, to allow me to do so.

If you've been to the main station in the last month, you've likely noticed of the wonderful work our Grounds Chair, Susan Rebello, has completed on our major landscaping project. She's planned and planted in such a way, that we will have beautiful and colorful grounds all year round. I really enjoyed the way Susan explained it to me; "first year they sleep, second year they creep and third year they leap." It will be fun to watch the progression from creep to leap.

Terron Lindholm

Kyle Bixby has done a wonderful job as your Membership Chair, inducting nine new members during October and November. The club remains at our active member cap of 400 members. Please remember, when you meet a member at an event with a star on their name tag, signifying a new member, PLEASE make an effort to welcome them to the club and invite them to an event or encourage them to participate by volunteering.

There are several initiatives taking place on the Security front, chaired by P/C Scott Grimm. P/C Grimm was instrumental in repairing the building's locking mechanism at the Bainbridge Island outstation this month (thus replacing the chain wrapped around the door handles). At the main station, we are investigating the installment of a security camera inside the front lobby, so that Elise, and you, can see vendors and guests at the front door, during the darker hours of our winter.

I hope to see all of you at one of the many fun holiday events coming up at the club. Be sure to register online at www.queency.org.

DOCKS DOIN'S

INSPECTION UNDER DOCK THREE

REVEALS NEEDED FIXES

At the November Docks Fun Day, our crew of intrepid under dock inspectors (lead by Dick Dow, aka "spiderman", on his back in the dinghy) surveyed the structural condition of Dock Three. Among issues discovered; some rotting cross beams integral to the integrity of the dock.

While we can't be certain, yet, how the 520 project will affect Dock Three- we can be certain that ignoring structural rot would be a mistake. Each year we survey and repair on one of the three docks- and this year it's Dock Three's turn.

Join the Docks Committee on the second Saturday of December, December 8, for a rollicking good time and a free breakfast. We meet at 8:30 AM on the second deck. The Committee meeting, for purposes of planning projects, drinking beer, and eating pizza is the previous Tuesday, December 4, 6:30, second deck.

Bainbridge outstation views largest boat in 17 years!

OUTSTATION REPORT

MEMBERS ENJOY WINTER OUTSTATION FUN, MANY EVENTS AND A BIG TUG

The mild fall weather has many Members out using their boats - it's been fun showing off the best Outstation in the NW to our newest Members! Some are taking advantage of the easy walk to town and to start their Christmas shopping.

The HUGE ocean-going tug pictured above was next door in Eagle Harbor for about ten days, and people were coming on foot, by car, and by water to gaze at it! Eric let his Police buddies know it was getting ready to leave, and our lot had several Police vehicles and many other people watching when it left for Florida.

It doesn't seem possible but New Year's Eve is just around the corner. There is never a planned event at the Bainbridge Outstation, but last year about 50 Members came - most by boat. Great pot-lucks, fun, and games ensued!

In January, two annual busy weekends are scheduled at the Bainbridge Outstation. January 4-6 Past Commodores from the Grand Fourteen will be here, and January 11-13 current Officers from the Grand Fourteen will be here. On both weekends the docks will be full and the Clubhouse will be hopping! Not that we're expecting trouble, but we just had the fire extinguishers serviced...

If you haven't seen the photos yet, take a look on the Club's website or on Salt Spring Marina's website at the state of "deconstruction" at our second most popular Satellite Outstation. Can't wait! Happy Holidays,

Santa Surprises Lockmaster

HONOR: When the Santa Claus Ship Hilma III stopped in the Ballard Locks last evening, Santa had Frederick W. Grebbell, a lockmaster, read over the ship's public-address system a letter praising Grebbell for his 26 1/2 years' service there. Grebbell, who will retire January 27, was surprised by the ceremony. The letter was from the Queen City Yacht Club, which also gave Grebbell an inscribed gold watch. (See Page 15 for tonight's Christmas and Santa ships schedule.)

by the ceremony. The letter was from the Queen City Yacht Club, which also gave Grebbell an inscribed gold watch. The lockmaster held the gift wrapped watch.

The personal touch - Frederick Grebbell was my maternal grandfather. The family lore had always been that Seattle Yacht Club gave him the watch. Stuff gets confused after 50 years. Nice to see it was our own club, QCYC, that thanked Grandpa for his service- all those years ago.

INSURANCE COMMITTEE MAINSTATION MOORAGE ELECTRICITY PROTOCOL PREVENTS CLAIMS

The insurance committee recently convened to review the club's insurance policies. We want to maintain that favorable pricing and rely on all members to help when it comes to loss prevention.

One of the primary (and preventable) causes of claims relates to our use of shore power cords and connections. While a quick YouTube search can provide all the details, the number one rule when connecting to shore power is to turn off all systems prior to plugin. This includes not just the systems on your boat, but also the breaker on the power pedestal. Once you are plugged in, turn the power on at the pedestal and then on your vessel. Failure to follow this procedure damages the connections and can lead to long term damage resulting in arching, heat, and eventually fire.

The committee looked at amounts of coverage, scope of coverage and costs associated with the programs. As you might imagine, given the size and scope of operations, the insurance policies are not inexpensive.

The efforts led by the bridge, the various committees, and the general members - repairing, maintaining and operating the club demonstrate our pride of ownership. As we review the costs associated with insurance, we were pleased to discover that the underwriters agree and have provided us favorable pricing because of our excellent claim's history.

On the docks and around the club keep an eye out for maintenance or other issues that might lead to a claim. When you see something, please notify the office so they might take appropriate action. Common loss control items for Yacht Clubs include maintenance with: lighting, storage facilities, gates and security fences, exit signage and traction on ramps. While ours always seem to be in good condition, working together we will keep it this way.

It's a good time for the annual inspection and battery change of your smoke detectors and carbon monoxide detectors. All portable fire extinguishers should also be checked and replaced as needed. The end of the year is a great time to get this done.

Working together we can continue to keep the club shipshape, preventing claims and helping with the costs of insurance. We thank everyone for their effort now and in the future. The Insurance Committee is comprised of Captains Jim Ammons, Barry Rutten, PC Dean Lentgis, PC Bill McGillin, Gary Stone and chaired by Captain Trevor Campbell.

JOIN THE ANNUAL CHET GIBSON LIGHTED BOAT PARADE, POST PARADE ELECTRIC CHRISTMAS BALL WITH QCYC'S DESOLATION SOUNDS

Get lit! (Get your boat lit, that is) Then rendezvous at the green buoy off Gasworks Park at 6 PM, Saturday, December 8. We will follow the shorter parade route around Lake Union and down the canal to the turn basin east of the Ballard Bridge, then back to Portage Bay. We are expecting participation from Rainier Yacht Club, Tyee Yacht Club, and Classic Yacht Association boats in addition to a strong turnout from QCYC. We hope this will be the best attended parade in several years.

Following the parade, everybody is invited up to the third deck for the Electric Christmas Ball. Bring your party leftovers and all your friends who were aboard your boat for a potluck. Bring your own beverage. Have fun, socialize, and dance the night away with the QCYC house band, Desolation Sounds.

Save the date for Robert Burns Night (and Scotch tasting)

It's on again! We have rounded up a committee and there will be a Robert Burns Night, Friday Night Social, January 25. Save the date. We can accommodate 60 reservations. This event has been very well received in previous years. There will be bagpipes, men in kilts, women singing in Gaelic. There will be haggis (consumption of haggis is optional), authentic Scottish meat pies and side dishes. Scotch ale for sale at the bar. Oh, and just in case anybody is interested- the reservation includes five tastings of premium single malt Scotch, highlighting a variety of regional characteristics. The entire evening should cost no more than you would pay for about 3 shots of Scotch in a lot of Seattle bars- so consider this a real bargain. (Selection of whisky may vary from illustration)
